

Summary of presentation

Dominic Scott will try to make some sense of the alphabet soup of the DIUS (Department for Innovation, Universities and Skills) supported PMI (Prime Ministers' Initiative for International Education) and the SE&E (Student Experience and Employment) advisory group, the PBS (Points Based immigration System), the JET (Joint Education Taskforce) and the ATAS (Academic Technology Approval Scheme) to question whether it is becoming easier or more difficult for the UK to attract, retain and support international postgraduate students.
